Twin-Star Gives back to their Community and spreads Holiday Cheer

The holidays are a time for giving back to those who help and support you throughout the year and at Twin-Star International, there were no exceptions to that age old rule as the company gave back to their community and to the employees that make their success possible.

On December 12th Twin-Star held their Annual Holiday Bash! Employees and their guests were treated to a night of cocktails, dinner and dancing as well as a mind bending performance by Mentalist, Brad Barton, and a surprise gift raffle that had the whole room on the edge of their seats.

The following day, the City of Delray Beach, where Twin-Star is headquartered, held their annual Holiday Parade. Over 70 groups entered floats in the parade, including the Boy Scouts of America Pack 308. Twin-Star donated an electric fireplace to the Boy Scouts, and the extra heat paid off as the boys took the grand prize as 2008's Best Overall Float in Delray's annual parade.

Then, on December 16th, Mark Asofsky, Twin-Star's President, along with volunteers from the office went up to Lake Worth with a truck full of gifts for the Adopt-A-Family program of Palm Beach County. Mark and the Twin-Star gang spent the evening with the Martinez family sharing their stories of holidays past and hopes for the future over a traditional Cuban dinner that the family prepared.

Whatever your beliefs or traditions, one thing is for sure, giving back over the holidays is the greatest gift of all.
